DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgement is made of the receipt and entry of the amendment filed on 11/27/2006.

The rejections made under 35 U.S.C. 112 2nd, second paragraph, 35 U.S.C. 102(e) and 102(b) and 35 U.S.C. 103(a) have been overcome by applicant's amendment.

Amended claims 33-44 are under examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 33-34 and 40-41 are rejected under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by Lowrey (US 6,100,286).

Applicant claims a composition consisting essentially of between about 0.0018 mg and about 0.45 mg phentolamine mesylate or a molar equivalent of another alpha adrenergic receptor antagonist and a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier.

Lowrey anticipates the claimed invention (see, e.g. claims) because Lowery teaches a composition consisting essentially of phentolamine mesylate and a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier. Therefore, the reference is deemed to anticipate the claimed invention.

{Please note: Although Applicant has amended the claims to include the closed language of "consisting essentially of", phentolamine mesylate is a pure compound which is well known within the art. Thus the quantity and/or mass (i.e. 0.0018 mg and about 0.45mg) of a well known pure compound claimed as a composition is not given patentable weight by the Examiner because quantity and/or mass is an extrinsic property. Only intrinsic properties of a well known pure compound claimed as a composition (i.e. intrinsic properties such as color etc. that have to do with the substance of the compound) are given patentable weight by Examiner.}

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 33-44 are rejected under 35 US 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lowrey.

Applicant claims a composition and/or solution consisting essentially of between 0.00018 mg and about 0.45 mg phentolamine mesylate or a molar equivalent of another alpha adrenergic receptor antagonist and a pharmaceutically acceptable carrier present in a container that fits into a standard dental local anesthetic syringe for administration to a subject.

The primary reference is relied upon for the reasons discussed above. Lowery does not expressly teach the composition is a solution is used to impregnate, all the forms of administration and the unit dosage of the solution is present in a container that fits into a standard dental local anesthetic syringe. However, based upon the overall beneficial teachings provided by Lowery, the result-effective adjustment of conventional working conditions therein (e.g., the substitution of one type of administration for another, the solution is used to impregnate and the form of the solution being placed in a container first than into a syringe), is deemed merely a matter of judicious selection and routine optimization which is well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

Accordingly, the invention as a whole is prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

No claims are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
